Cocktails Inspired By The Flying Scotsman

N° 60103

Originally built in Doncaster in 1925 with a length of 70 feet and with a weight of 97 tonnes, "The Flying Scotsman" was officially the first locomotive to reach 100mph. Named after the London - Edinburgh service which started daily at 10am it was the first locomotive to circumnavigate the globe and holds the World Record for a non-stop run in a steam locomotive, set in 1989 with a 422 mile trip.

Our journey starts in London, the excitement builds as we embark on our lavish expedition across the UK. A quintessentially English combination of London Dry Gin and crisp refreshing botanicals to awaken your palate.

Cockney Collins

9

Tanqueray gin, elderflower liqueur, fresh mint, lime and cucumber.

L O N D O N

First stop on the journey is the Medieval town of York, famous for its Roman & Viking heritage, picturesque dales & moors, and blossoming gardens. This combination of tart rhubarb, sweet cherry and delicate rose will make your taste buds sing!

Rhubarb & Rose

8

Cherry liqueur, rose liqueur, rhubarb syrup, cranberry, fresh lemon juice and soda

Y O R K

The next stop is the historic city of Newcastle. Famous for its bridges, coal mining, ship building and railway engineering. Birthplace of George Stephenson (Father of Railways), Alan Shearer (England's greatest ever goal scorer) and Newcastle Brown Ale which provides a unique twist to this refreshing worldwide classic cocktail.

Toon Iced Tea

10

Vodka, gin, rum, Cointreau, fresh lemon juice and Newcastle Brown Ale.
